Student-Centered Graduate Education: Emerging Pathways for Student Success

MAGS members are invited to submit abstracts for contributed sessions for the 78th Annual Meeting to take place at Saint Kate: The Arts Hotel in Milwaukee, WI, from April 6-8, 2022. The meeting's theme, Student-Centered Graduate Education: Emerging Pathways for Student Success, allows for a plethora of options to showcase your innovative practices. You may wish to consider the following question and examples.

What does it look like to have a student-centered graduate educational experience? From holistic admission to integral services promoting and supporting completion and alumni engagement, all aspects of the graduate student life cycle can be considered. Participants may wish to explore the integration of social activism/social equity in graduate education; supporting student research/creative activities; effective advising models for the 21st century; or other issues currently impacting graduate students.

Abstracts for sessions pertaining to this theme and other topical issues impacting graduate education are encouraged. If you are interested in presenting, or co-presenting a session, please fill out the dedicated Google Form to include:

- Session Title
- Session Description of 200-250 words of the proposed session (to be used for the conference website, etc.)
- Session Leader Contact Information (name, title, affiliation, email, phone)
- Additional Presenter(s) Contact Information (name, title, affiliation, email, phone) ^{1,2}

Priority Deadline for consideration is September 13, 2021. Abstracts will be reviewed by the planning committee and notification of acceptance will be sent in mid-October.

For questions, please contact Kerry Wilks, Chair MAGS 2022 Conference at kerry.wilks@wichita.edu.

¹ All presenters must register for the 2021 MAGS Annual Meeting.

² Session Leaders are responsible for contacting co-presenters and ensuring all presenters agree to participate.
